Work-The Crop In the West.

RALEION, N. C., Kovember 6.—At the Exposition to-day Governor Fleming, of West Virginia, was introduced by State-Auditor Sanderlin and made an excellent address on the resources of his State. He was shown through the public buildings and was given a reception by the Judges of the Supreme Court. He dined with Governor Medit and a reception of the Supreme Court. nor Holt and a party of prominent gentle-men at the Executive office, and left for home at 5 o'clock this afternoon.

QUICKLY EXTINGUISHED There was a fire at the Exposition Grounds this afernoon on the roof of the grand stand, which was due to sparks from a flue and broke out at several places. It was extinguished quickly.

News was received to-day of a murder in Greene county. Dublin Smith, a white man, teased John Brown, also white. The latter became angry and smashed his skull with a plank. The murderer has fled.

The Executive Committee of the State Farmers' Alliance met here to-day and made a careful inspection of the books of Secretary Barnes and State-Agent Worth. Marion Butler, the president of the Alliance, is chairman of this committee. He has completed a seven weeks' tour through the State, making addresses and organizing a new feature of the Alliance—the lecture bureaus for each of the congressional districts. He says he has had great success in forming these, and that the plan has the carnest support of the order. The nine heads of these district bureaus are the lecturers for the respective districts. Mr. Butler says the choice of these has been carefully made and that he expects the best results. Great improvement has been made in the general organization of the State Alliance, and its 105,000 members have certainly wonderful facilities for getting information. No political party has such means at command. In each district there have been conferences of the President Butler is a hard worker.

THE CROPS.

dent Butler is a hard worker.

THE CROPS.

Congressman-elect S. B. Alexander, of Mecklenburg, says the corn crop has not nearly come up to expectations and the cotton crop is very poor. As a result the farmers and merchants are all short and collections are hard to make.

John Neathery, a dissolute white man, made a desperate attempt to burn the jull at Durbam. He set fire to his mattress. The firemen saved the building and an open window saved Neathery's life, as otherwise he would have been suffocated. THE FIRST BLAST-FURNACE.

Laying of the Corner-Stone at Greens boro'-Address of Governor Holt.

Greensbook, N. C., November 5.—At 2
P. M. to-day a large crowd assembled at the furnace-site of the North Carolina Steel and Iron Company to witness the laying of the corner-stone of the first blast-furnace in North Carolina. Colonel Julian S. Carr introduced Rev. J. Henry Smith, D. D., who made a fervent prayer in behalf of the new industry. After the prayer Colonel Carr in a short but elequent talk introduced Governor Holt, the orator of the day. The Governor was at home among his audience, as most of them had known him all their lives, and he was frequently applauded during his speech. He shock of the great importance of the inspoke of the great intendent of the fresh that it was friend against friend rather than Democracy against Republicanism is why the outside world was apprized of so little of the warfare.

PERSONAL.

Miss Nettle Blanton, daughter of Mr. B. W. L. Blanton, Assistant Superintendent of the proper the dewill have the cha snoke of the great importance of the midustry being inaugurated. The only reason North Carolina has not kept pace with other iron States has been the want of proper transportation; that want is now done away with, and there is no reason why our State may not rank favorably with other iron-producing States. NO FOREIGN LABOR.

The Governor closed with an exortation to the company to avoid above all things the employment of foreign labor, which has already proved one of the greatest curses to our beautiful country. After the speech the corner-stone was laid by Mr. J. D. Case, who is general papager of the D. Case, who is general manager of the construction of the steel furnace. STOPPED THE SALE.

At the close of the ceremonies it was announced that a few choice lots of the company would be sold. The lots were sold quite reasonably, but the company stopped the sale after eight or ten had been taken.

A little white girl, daughter of Mr. C. H. Horanday, a most worthy gentleman, was burned to death at Kandleman, N. C., Tuesday. Her clothing caught while playing in the fire.

[Correspondence of the Richmond Dispatch.]
SCOTLAND NECK, N. C., November 6.—
Superintendent W. C. Allen has given his first order for guns for the Scotland Neck Military School. They will soon arrive and other guns will be purchased when needed. Mr. Allen made application to the proper authorities of the State guard for the guns, but the State did not have the guns to supply the school. Mr. Allen then ordered the guns at his own expense. BOLD BURGLARIES. I here has been considerable excitement in Tarboro' over some very bold burglaries committed there. THE EXPOSITION.

THE EXPOSITION.

Your correspondent has just returned from the Exposition at Raleigh and finds it impossible to answer all the questions asked about it. The display is not complete but fair in many respects. The Exposition was opened too soon. Four weeks would have been long enough to keep it open. The first four weeks it was kept open bught to have been given to preparing the displays and arranging for the opening. There would have been a larger crowd every day and every visitor would have been more favorably impressed. It is a big thing as it is, but could have been made much better, I think, by waiting longer to open and keeping open half the time.

A WELL-DIGGER ENTOMBED.

(Special telegram to the Dispatch.)

Wisston, N. C., November 6.—A colored well-digger was cleaning out a well at Waughtown to-day when the rock wails of the well caved from thirty feet above, causing a dull, stekening crash and filling, with the exception of slight air-holes, several feet of the well. Fortunately two large rocks caught just above Poters's head and formed an arch, on which the other debris was supported. In this manner the man remained in the water for seven hours until the weil could be cleared.

SOLDIERS AND MASONS.

A contract between Company D (Monticello Guard) and Widow's Son's Lodge. No. 60, A. F. and A. M., for the erection and use of the armory was presented. A resolution to approve the contract, subject to the conditions and stipulations of a previous contract, was offered and adopted. In this contract it reserves to itself the right of saying what benevolent institutions may use the rooms of the lodge. It will be remembered that the city donated the lot and appropriated a sum of money to Company D. The foundation of the armory, which is located just in the rear of the City Hall, has been laid for several months.

NOT GULTI.

The evidence in the trial of Major George N. Ferneyhough, charged with shooting and badly wounding Mr. John W. Crickenberger on the 29th of last June, was closed about 1 o'clock yesterday. Counsel agreed to submit the case to the jury without argument. The jury, who were out for only a few minutes, returned a verdict of hot guilty. Major Ferneyhough claimed that he did the shooting in self-defence. The difficulty occurred near Stony Point and grew out of a quarrel over some cattle of Crickenberger's getting into a field of Major Ferneyhough's.

The Vote of the County by Precincts-Rice's Rejected by the Board.

[Correspondence of the Richmond Dispatch.]

[Correspondence of the Richmond Dispatch.]
FARMVILLY, VA., November 6.—The Board of Commissioners met to-day and canvassed the vote of Prince Edward, which resulted as follows:
Senator, 30th district. Legislature.
Southall. Burton. Booker.
Farmville precinct... 580 477 123
Worsham precinct... 261 62 201
Hriery precinct... 281 62 29 59
Green Bay precinct... 185 149 123
Prospect precinct... 185 149 123
Prospect precinct... 185 155 42 1,471 1,028

Rice's precinct vote was rejected by the board and thrown out because of the failure of one of the judges of the election at that place to sign the returns. It appears that there were too many votes in the box when the count was made, and Mr. Olgers, a Democratic judge, suggested that the usual process of bindfolding some one and allowing the number in excess to be withdrawn, but Mr. Hubbard, Republican judge, said "No; if that be done only Republican votes will come out," and he then left the polls without signing the papers. The vote as it stood there showed a majority for Colonel Booker of 18, which could not have altered the result.

THREE VOTES.

Jasper, the negro candidate for the Senate from the Thirtieth district, received only three votes in this county.

The above official returns will show a majority for Hon. R. M. Burton of 282, which is over 200 Democratic gain in the county.

THE BURNING OF LURAY INN.

[Special telegram to the Dispach.]

(Special telegram to the Dispach.)

LURAY, VA., November 6.—The full amount of the insurance upon the Luray Inn, which was destroyed by fire last night, the furniture, and the surrounding buildings, reaches the sum of $102,500. A small proportion of this insurance is, however, upon the cottage, engine-house, and green-house, which were not destroyed. The insurance will not near cover the loss and is distributed among a number of companies, the largest single policy being panies, the largest single policy being $12,500.

The fire was first discovered about 9:30 P. M., and it was 11 o'clock or after before it had exhausted itself. The scene in the darkness of the night was a very brilliant one, and lit up the country for miles ground. Great regret has been expressed here to-day at the destruction of this spiendid hotel.

There were many finer hotel-buildings in the country perhaps, but in the beauty of its surroundings and the completeness of its appointments the Luray Inn had few if any superiors.

How the fire originated still continues a mystery, though it was doubtless accidental. The inn was built by the Luray Cave and Hotel Company some years ago, with the late George K. Mullin, of Philadelphia, as the proprietor, but was sold a year or more ago to the Valley Land and Improvement Company of Luray, and has recently been under the control of Mr. Fred. W. Eyans, lessee and manager.

WERE THESE GOBLETS OWNED HERE? Identified-For the Reform School.

[Special telegram to the Dispatch.] (Special telegram to the Dispatch.)

LYNGHSURG, VA., November 6.—A negro barber named Henry Staples was arrested here to-day while trying to dispose of two valuable silver gobiets for a nominal price. Staples claimed that he got the goblets from a white man from Rochester, N. Y., but the police think ne stole them in Richmond, where he formerly lived. Each has an inscription on it as follows:

Three white boys (brothers) named Charles, John, and Thompson Lavinder were arrested here to-day as vagrants, and will be sent to the reform school below Richmond to-morrow.

A small boy who called himself Willie Irvine was discovered to-day living in the suburbs with a colored family. The boy can give no account of himself, and says he never knew his parents. The negroes will give no information except that they picked him up in the street. The Mayor decided to send him to the reform school also. The boy is apparently about nine years of age and very bright.

PETERSBURG, VA., November 6.—There were no less than eight attempts at burglary in this city last night, some of which were successful; in others the burglars were discovered and frightened away. It is supposed that all of the work was done by one and the same gang. In all instances entrance to the houses was effected by cutting the blinds and forcing the windows. In some of the dwellings the thieves made free search for valuables, entering the chambers of the sleeping inmates, ransacking bureau drawers, and scattering things upon the floors.

At Mr. Robert Shackelford's, same street, they got a double-case gold watch; some money and clothing, and a check on the Suffolk Bank was stolen, but they found it in the yard. At J. M. on Both Sides of the Case.

[Special telegram to the Dispatch.]

NEWBERN, VA., via DUBLIN, VA., November 6.—By half-past 8 this morning all the available scats in the court-house had been taken, and when J. C. Wysor rose a little after 9 to make the opening speech for the Commonwealth the building was packed. Mr. Wysor started with Feagles in town, took him out through the fields to the woods, where he awaited the coming of Caddall. There, when Caddall came up, said Wysor. I believe Feagles stopped him and spoke with him, then shot him as he rode off. Then Feagles rushed up, crushed his skull, rifled his pockets, and made off towards town, examining each article which he had taken, and throwing aside those which were worthless.

MADE A STRONG CASE.

Mr. Wysor went carefully over all the evidence and made out a strong case against Feagles. Judge R. M. Brown replied to him in a three hours' speech, in which he ably presented the case for the defence. He made a logical and powerful speech, and at the close strove to enlist the sympathy of the jury. He was followed by M. L. Browning, who spoke of the lack of motive. reasonable doubt, discussed the law of circumstantial evidence, and read lengthily from other cases. The time for adjournment came before he could finish his speech. MADE A STRONG CASE. finish his speech.

James City's Vote. Toano, Va., November 5, 1891.

In your paper to-day you state that there was a full vote polled in James City county, and that the Republicans, with few exceptions, stayed away from the polls. We must protest against such a statement going on record, for not more than one third of the Democratic vote was polled in Powhatan district and about one fourth of the vote in Stonehouse district.

The average for the county will certainly be not less than one half of the legitimate Democratic vote.

We beg that you will correct the statement referred to above, which will be much to the interest of the Democratic party in this section.

Very respectfully yours.

Democratic Judge of Election,
